DESCRIPTION

GMC Canyon SLE cabine allongée 4RM, 128,3 po 2019 à vendre

Want a real pickup with V6 power and a four-door cab, but don't necessarily want to drive a massive full-size truck every day? That's exactly where the GMC Canyon makes sense. This 2019 Canyon SLE Crew Cab has 133 005 km, an accident-free history and was traded in directly by one of our customers. And this one has one of the most desirable engines offered in the Canyon: The 3.6L V6. It produces 308 horsepower and 275 lb-ft of torque, paired with an 8-speed automatic transmission. So while the Canyon is considerably more manageable than a full-size Sierra, it certainly isn't short on power. 308 HP in a midsize pickup. That makes it useful for work, renovations, cottage trips, outdoor equipment or simply someone who wants the practicality of a pickup bed without dealing with full-size-truck dimensions every day.
